Business Insurance from Webb Holton

Webb Holton is an independent insurance broker based in Edgbaston, Birmingham. Our experienced team has been providing clients with a high level service since 1987, arranging all types of insurance cover tailored to the needs of their business.

As active members of the Commercial Broking Alliance (COBRA), we can take advantage of collective purchasing power to secure competitive premium rates, improved cover and enhanced service standards from the major insurance companies. COBRA has member brokers nationwide, however, we remain an independent company and work on your behalf at all times.

A Complete Service

We understand that each company has its own individual requirements. With this in mind, we adopt the following procedure with new clients:

- An initial meeting to make sure we fully understand how a potential client's business operates, obtain details of their current insurance arrangements and discuss future insurance requirements.
- Research the market for the required cover and shortlist potential insurance companies. There is no substitute for experience. However, to assist us, we have installed a sophisticated research and quotation system.
- Present the most competitive terms offered by the insurers and explain these fully.
- Arrange the appropriate insurance cover

We offer an annual review so that we can take note of any changes in your business and ensure that your cover continues to meet your needs.

Making life easier for you...

Who can we help ? - We advise and arrange insurance for many types of businesses including:
